From Herzl's Colonial Trust To Israel's Note Bank

During the recent session of the Zionist General Council Mr. S. Lifshitz, Chairman of the Bank Leumi, gave a report on the current position of the Jewish Colonial Trust and the Bank Leumi in Israel.

When 50 years ago the Trust was established, its structure was the result of the Zionist movement's desire to have a Jewish bank in Palestine.

The Trust was to finance the realization of his political dream, the acquisition of a Charter for the colonization of Palestine. Herzl recognized the necessity of placing a business enterprise in the charge of business trust, but he felt that they should be kept under the ideological control of the Zionist movement.

Structure of Company
The following structure was chosen. The business of the Trust was, like that of any company, conducted by its Directors. But apart from the Board of Directors there was instituted a Council which took part in the conduct of the business, but its members were allotted collectively, 100 Founders' Shares.

Prospect for Shareholders
It is hoped that it will be possible to deal with these matters in the course of the year. The Council, therefore, controlled the General Meeting, and the Directors' proposals concerning the election of new Directors could not be passed against the will of the Council.

Council's Constitution
There now arose the difficulty of filling the representation of a house world organization, which for obvious reasons had no legislative basis under a specific legislation, into the structure of the Trust.

As no perfect solution was possible, the whole of the then existing Actions Committee, 25 members, was constituted as the Council. This Council would in future deal with any necessary legislation, but the members were expected to conform in the procedure of cooption with the wishes of the Actions Committee.

Frustrated in its original and main purpose, the Trust devoted itself to some indifferent London and continental banking business, while its Palestine subsidiary, which had been set up in 1907, after it had sustained several severe losses.

MAPAI LAID BASIS OF LEFT EXTREMISM
The Executive Committee of the General Zionist Party, in an announcement in the Prager trial, strongly disavowed the extreme Socialist parties had developed. The statement also accused the Israel Labour Party of being responsible for the strife in the country.

U.N. Efforts at Israel-Arab Peace Follow Years of Lethargy, Hatzofe

The debate on the Prager trial continued in the press but it is gradually being relegated from the editorial to the news columns and features.

"Al Hamishmar" (Mapam) continued its eloquent silence publishing no leading article at all while "Kol Ha'am" (Communist) made a brave effort to play up anti-Semitism in the U.S. Moreover, said the paper, it has been revealed that even Mr. Ben-Gurion was not in Washington in 1947 (as alleged) he was at least invited to come there by Mr. Lester Pearson, then president of the U.N. General Assembly.

"Al Hamishmar," however, does give prominence to a statement by Mr. Hagiel Ben Shalom, of Hashomer Hatzair, who was mentioned at the Prager trial as an American "agent". The former First Secretary and Consul at the Israel Legation in Prague said the evidence was nonsense and without any foundation.

NEW YORK, Monday (AP). — Michigan State moved into the seventh consecutive week at the head of the nation's collegiate football squad, with bowl-bound Ohio and Georgia Tech tagging at the Spartans' heels.

Michigan State's Spartans, who closed their season with a 21-0 victory over the Ohio State Buckeyes, can hang on to their edge over the also-unbeaten number two and three clubs, they will pick off top honors in next week's final balloting for the first time in their history.

Michigan State came close in 1951 but was finally edged by Tennessee.

The biggest change in the top standings was the toehold of Maryland, which dropped from eighth to 12th following Michigan State's win over the Terrapins.

Recent Food Price Increases Will Add 4 Per Cent to Food Bill—Joseph

The recent increases in the price of basic commodities will cost each family only slightly more than four per cent of its total food bill, Dr. Dov Joseph, Minister of Commerce and Industry, told the nation last night over Kol Yisrael.

He said the recent relaxation of restrictions would permit his Ministry to exert its attention on the production of vital items, such as under-shirts, socks, towels and white cloth. While the Ministry intended to allocate the "lion's share" of foreign currency to raw materials for such commodities, it would, as much as possible, give attention to supplying raw materials to semi-controlled items.

Turning to the export-import situation, Dr. Joseph noted that during the past month Israel had succeeded in purchasing quantities of goods abroad under barter agreements. We received 10,000 tons of coal, 1,000 cubic meters of wood, cotton, unfinished white cloth, newspaper, wrapping paper and carboys.

First exports have been received from Finland for plastic products valued $100,000; from Turkey for metal goods and paints valued at $200,000; and from several countries orders for knitting wool valued at $100,000. In addition, Nigeria ordered "cotton" apparatus valued at $100,000.

Dr. Joseph emphasized the importance of the $2,000,000 trade agreement with Denmark. This agreement had established a precedent since we were not obliged to pay foreign currency for goods imported, even if these items totalled more than our exports. We would supply Denmark with textiles, clothes, nylon stockings, citrus, tomato puree, tinned cars and other goods.

Power Line to J'lem Promised in Week

Five generators at the Shimon Shimon factory's power plant are being tested and the line connecting the unit with Jerusalem is expected to be completed by next Monday, a Ministry of Commerce and Industry spokesman stated yesterday.

The generators, after a testing period, will produce from 2,500 to 4,000 kilowatts per hour. But it will be several more weeks before the machines are capable of transmitting this amount of current to the capital. The power plant, which is still not in operating order, are still not in operating order.

An agreement between Shimon Shimon, the Jerusalem Electric Corp. and the Ministry of Commerce over the supply of power to Jerusalem is expected to be signed within a few days.

Due to repairs and improvements in existing lines, there will be power breaks in certain parts of Jerusalem on Wednesday and Thursday.

Med School Gets Funds For Cancer Research

The Hebrew University-Hadassah Medical School has received a grant of $10,000 for the year 1953/54 from the Damon Runyon Memorial Fund for Cancer Research in New York.

For "Studies of the Milk Agent in Carcinogenesis" and "Physico-Chemical, Bio-Chemical and Biologic Effects of X-rays," the University announced yesterday.

These studies are being made by Dr. G. Eder, Tennenbaum and Dr. G. Kefauver, both instructors in experimental pathology at the Medical School. A grant of $10,000 for cancer research was also received last year from the Damon Runyon Fund by the Medical School.

Dr. Anna Rosin, instructor in Experimental Pathology at the University-Hadassah Medical School, has received a grant of $2,700 from the Leukemia Research Foundation, of Chicago, U.S.A. for her research on "The effect of urethane on the mitotic activity of the bone marrow."

This is the first grant ever made by an American organization to the Hebrew University for leukemia research. The first grant of the Leukemia Research Foundation was made to the U.S.A. and the second to a woman.

The grant was obtained through the efforts of Dr. J. H. Himmelfarb, Chairman of the American Friends of the Hebrew University, of which Dr. Himmelfarb is Chairman in the U.S.A.

Same Rations

Dr. Joseph said December's rations would remain substantially the same as last month. In place of 400 grams of jam, however, each consumer would receive 200 grams of jam and 200 grams of sugar. Adults, as well as children, would get 200 grams of rice. A 200-gram ration of yellow would continue to be distributed. In addition to the fish, salted fish already on the market, would continue to be distributed.

Fewer summer vegetables, but more autumn vegetables would be on the market this month. Smaller quantities of cucumbers, eggplant and peppers would reach the market, but more cabbage, cauliflower, beets, sword lettuce and onions would be received. Tomatoes would be rationed.

The Commerce Minister said he hoped, despite the rationing, that the fact that eggs are being diverted to hatcheries, at least eight eggs would be supplied to each citizen this month. The quantity of milk is expected to increase at the middle of the month.

Regarding the delay in distributing ration cards, Dr. Joseph promised his Ministry would do everything possible to see that these items be supplied in the next few weeks.

The possibility of bad communications due to rain had been foreseen and supplies of ration cards are being accumulated to supply markets and new settlements.

Mrs. Myerson Opens Hadassah Workshop

Jerusalem POST Reporter "I am glad to be a partner in this wonderful project," said Mrs. Golda Myerson, Minister of Labour, dedicating a new mechanical workshop of the Hadassah Vocational Centre at Ben Shimon youth village, sponsored jointly by Hadassah and Youth Aliyah, yesterday.

The Minister, who lauded Hadassah's contribution to vocational education, said she had attempted to introduce the concept of collective work, and our workers' unique status, but had found it hard to convey the spirit of labour in this country.

The six-month vocational course held at Ben Shimon is designed to further this spirit, as Mr. Moshe Kol, Director of Youth Aliyah, emphasized, the problem of keeping youth on the land was largely a matter of agricultural and trade guidance at the right stage.

Mrs. Elia Rosenzweig, President of Hadassah, emphasized the "dignity of work" which would get impetus from this education project.

Elementary Courses The Minister then switched on the current which set in motion a row of cutters, lathes and drills operated by young apprentices attending the first course in mechanics and metal work. Students chosen by psychotechnical tests will come from settlements and youth villages to get a basic training divided by periods of practical work in their own settlements.

The low standard of technical knowledge in settlements forced the vocational centre to begin at an elementary stage, and even skilled metal workers responsible for guiding apprentice youth had asked for special courses. An in-
